PACKAGE FORWARDING SERVICES FROM THE U.S. TO EUROPE

Members located in the European Union who would like to receive a printed Camerapixo Press ID Card may use an independent package forwarding service of their choice.

These companies provide customers with a U.S. shipping address. Camerapixo Press can ship the printed Press ID Card to the U.S. address provided by the Member. The forwarding company can then arrange international delivery to the Member's country.

Below are several established package forwarding services that currently provide international shipping options from the United States.

MyUS

MyUS provides customers with a U.S. shipping address and offers international forwarding to more than 220 countries and territories.

Website
https://www.myus.com/

Package Forwarding Information:
https://www.myus.com/international-package-forwarding-service-from-the-us-and-uk/

Shipito

Shipito provides customers with a personal U.S. shipping address with no signup or setup fee. After receiving the package in the United States, the Member can select an available international shipping method for their destination.

Website
https://www.shipito.com/

Package Forwarding Information:
https://www.shipito.com/en/package-forwarding-service

Stackry

Stackry provides a free U.S. shipping address and international forwarding through carriers including DHL, FedEx, Aramex, and USPS. The service currently supports delivery to more than 200 countries.

Website
https://www.stackry.com/

Ship7

Ship7 provides customers with a U.S. shipping address and international package forwarding services to many destinations worldwide, including European countries.

Website
https://www.ship7.com/

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

These companies are independent third party service providers and are not affiliated with Camerapixo Press or 360 Heller Media.

Camerapixo Press does not arrange, manage, control, or participate in the international forwarding process.

Before selecting a provider, Members should review the company's current shipping rates, available delivery methods, destination coverage, customs procedures, import taxes, VAT, service fees, and terms of service.

Shipping rates and service availability may change at any time and are determined entirely by the selected forwarding provider.

Camerapixo Press is responsible only for shipping the printed Press ID Card to the valid U.S. delivery address provided by the Member.

Once the package has been delivered to that U.S. address, all further shipping arrangements, international delivery, customs procedures, taxes, fees, delays, losses, damages, or claims must be handled directly between the Member and the selected forwarding provider.