BEHIND
CAMERAPIXO
PRESS

When we founded Camera-pixo Press, our vision was to build more than a photography magazine. We wanted to create a platform that helps photographers and visual creators gain recognition through publishing, strengthen their professional identity, and continue growing throughout their careers.

Over the years, our community has expanded across the world, but one belief has remained unchanged: Being Published Matters.

*Today, that vision continues to inspire every publication,
Membership, and new project we create.*

I hope this guide helps you understand not only what Camerapixo Press is, but also the philosophy behind everything we do.

*Every publication begins with people, their stories, experiences, and photographs. One of the greatest privileges of my work is collaborating with talented creators from around the world and helping present their work to an

WELCOME

What is Camerapixo Press

If this is your first introduction to our platform, we are delighted that you are here. This guide was created to explain not only what Camerapixo Press is, but also why it exists and what continues to inspire everything we do.

Camerapixo Press was built on a simple belief that meaningful publishing still has the power to change careers. A published photograph carries lasting value. It tells a story, builds credibility, and becomes part of a photographer's professional journey. That belief has guided us from the very beginning and continues to shape every publication, every membership, and every new project we create.

Today, Camerapixo Press is much more than a publishing platform. It is a place where photographers, photojournalists, and visual creators can publish their work, strengthen their professional identity, continue learning, and present themselves with confidence. Every part of the platform has been designed to support that journey and to help creators build recognition that lasts.

As you continue reading, we invite you to discover the ideas, values, and philosophy that define Camerapixo Press. We hope this guide helps you understand not only what we do, but why we believe it matters.

BEING PUBLISHED MATTERS

Every page of this guide will introduce another part of the Camerapixo Press ecosystem and explain how our publications, Memberships, educational resources, and professional tools work together to support photographers and visual creators. We invite you to discover the ideas that have shaped our platform and continue to inspire its future.

OUR PLATFORM

An independent international publishing and media platform

Camerapixo Press is an independent international media organization that brings publishing, professional identity, education, and digital presentation into one connected platform.

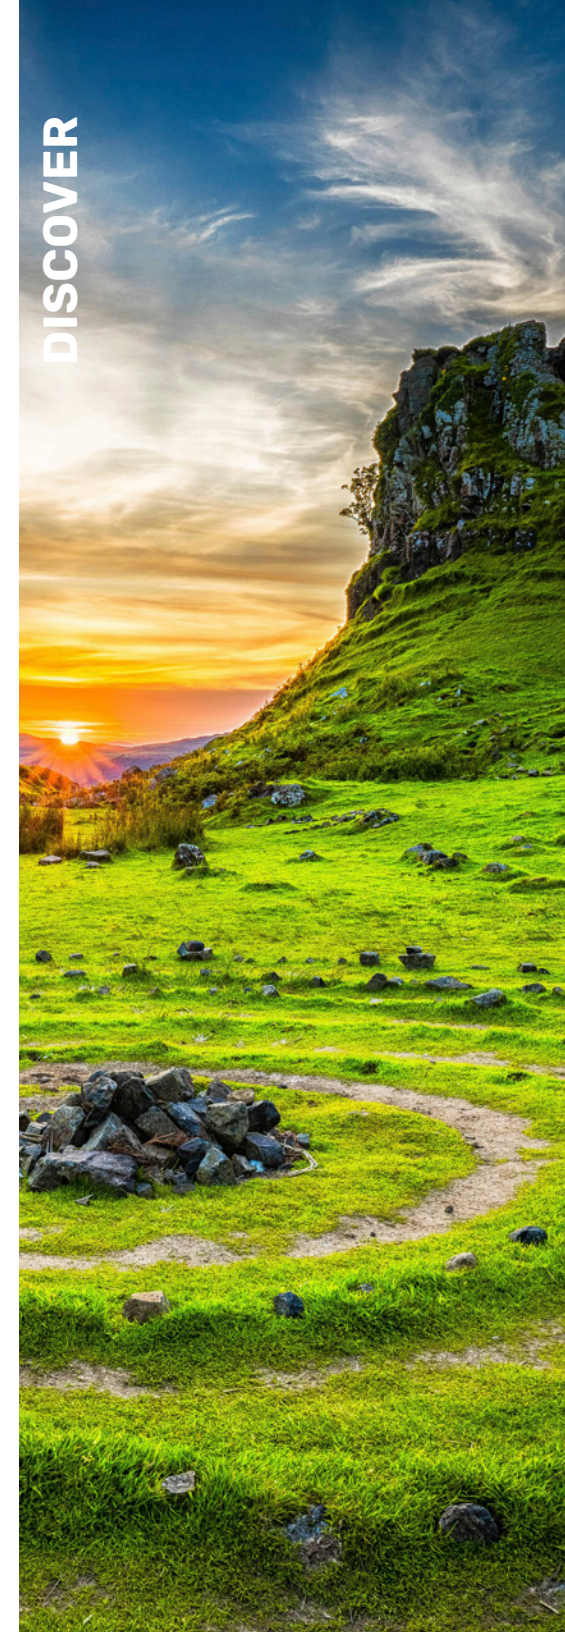

Our work includes photography publications, editorial opportunities, professional Memberships, verified Press ID Cards, DigiCardOne profiles, educational resources, and digital tools designed for photographers, photojournalists, and content creators.

Each part of the platform has a distinct purpose, yet all of them are connected. Together, they provide creators with practical ways to publish their work, present their credentials, communicate professionally, and build a stronger presence within the visual industry.

What makes Camerapixo Press unique is not any single publication, Membership, or service. It is the way these elements work together to support photographers throughout their professional journey, creating an ecosystem where every part strengthens the value of the others.

Camerapixo Press operates as both a publisher and a professional support platform. It gives independent creators access to opportunities and resources that are often difficult to obtain when working alone.

PUBLICATIONS

Where stories, careers, and recognition begin

Publications have always been at the heart of Camerapix Press. They are more than collections of photographs - they are carefully curated magazines and editorial projects that celebrate creativity, tell meaningful stories, and provide photographers with an opportunity to share their work with an international audience.

Being published offers something that social media cannot. It creates a permanent editorial record, strengthens professional credibility, and becomes an important part of a photographer's portfolio. Every publication represents a lasting achievement that can be shared, referenced, and remembered.

Our magazines feature photographers working across a wide range of genres, from photojournalism and sport to aviation, travel, wildlife, portrait, landscape, street, and fine art photography. Alongside carefully selected photographs, many editions also include interviews that allow readers to discover the stories, experiences, and inspiration behind the images.

Every publication is designed not only to present outstanding photography, but also to help creators build professional recognition and become part of an international publishing community.

MEMBERSHIPS

Designed to support different professional goals

Every visual creator and media professional follows a unique professional path. Some focus on publishing their work, others need professional identification, some want to strengthen their online presence, while others are looking to expand their knowledge or develop new skills.

Recognizing these different needs, we created the Camerapix Press Memberships. Rather than offering a single solution for everyone, we developed a range of Memberships, each designed for a different purpose while remaining part of one connected platform.

Each Membership provides access to a carefully selected combination of services, tools, and resources. While they differ in their focus, they all share the same goal – to help creators present themselves professionally, build credibility, and support their long-term development.

Whether your priority is publishing, professional identification, digital presentation, or continuous learning, there is a Membership designed to support your journey.

In the following chapters, we will introduce each Membership and explain its purpose, key benefits, and how it fits within the Camerapix Press ECOSYSTEM.

PRESS MEMBERSHIP

Professional identity for media and visual creators

PRESS Membership is designed for photographers, photojournalists, videographers, journalists, writers, and other visual creators who want to strengthen their professional identity and become part of an international media community.

More than a membership program, it provides access to a connected set of professional services, resources, and tools designed to support everyday creative work. From verified Press ID Cards and professional profiles to publishing opportunities and practical resources, every element has been developed to help Members present themselves with confidence and credibility.

Recognizing that every creator has different professional needs, PRESS Membership is available in two options: PRESS PLUS, which includes a Digital Press ID Card, and PRESS PRO, which combines Digital and Printed Press ID Cards together with additional professional benefits.

Whether you work as an independent freelancer, collaborate with media organizations, or create content across multiple platforms, PRESS Membership provides practical support while helping you build a stronger professional presence and credibility.

The following pages introduce the key elements that make PRESS Membership a complete professional solution for today's media and visual creators.

BUSINESS CONNECT MEMBERSHIP

Professional digital presence for today's creators

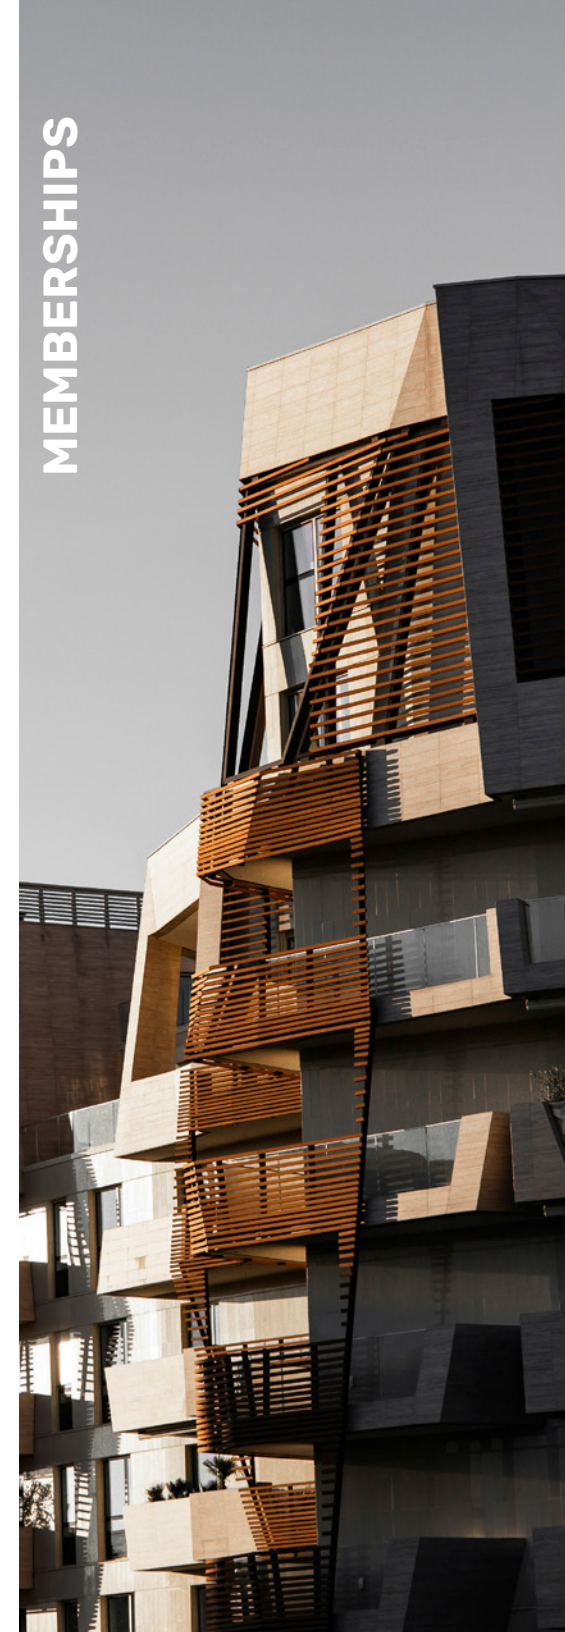

Not every creative professional needs a Press ID Card, but everyone benefits from having a strong and professional online presence. BUSINESS CONNECT Membership was created for creators who want to present themselves professionally, showcase their work, and make it easy for others to discover and connect with them.

At the heart of BUSINESS CONNECT Membership is a modular digital profile that brings together your portfolio, contact information, publications, projects, social media, and other professional content within one connected online presence. Built into every profile is DigiCardOne, a modern digital business card that makes it easy to share your information instantly with clients, collaborators, editors, and organizations from any device.

BUSINESS CONNECT Membership is ideal for photographers, artists, writers, videographers, designers, educators, entrepreneurs, and other creative professionals who want to strengthen their digital identity without requiring a Press ID Card.

As part of the Camerapixo Press ecosystem, BUSINESS CONNECT Membership also creates new opportunities to connect with our publishing platform and additional professional services, allowing Members to grow alongside the platform as their needs evolve.

ONLINE ACADEMY MEMBERSHIP

Learn. Improve Grow with confidence

Professional growth never stops. Whether you are just beginning your creative journey or have years of experience, continuing to learn is one of the best investments you can make in your future. ONLINE ACADEMY Membership was created to provide practical knowledge, valuable insights, and educational resources that help creators develop both professionally and personally.

Rather than focusing only on technical skills, the Camerapixo Press Academy explores the broader aspects of creative and professional development. Our courses and learning materials cover topics such as photojournalism, visual storytelling, publishing, professional identity, career development, and other subjects designed to support today's creators in an ever-changing media landscape.

ONLINE ACADEMY Membership gives Members access to exclusive educational content, future courses, and learning resources that continue to expand alongside the Camerapixo Press platform.

As part of the Camerapixo Press ecosystem, the Academy complements our publications and Membership programs by helping creators build knowledge, confidence, and the skills needed for long-term professional success.

DIGICARDONE MEMBERSHIP

A smarter way to present your business

In today's digital world, your online presence is often the first impression you make. DigiCardOne Membership was created for businesses, entrepreneurs, freelancers, and professionals who want a modern, flexible, and professional way to present themselves, their services, and their brand.

At the heart of the Membership is DigiCardOne – a dynamic digital business card that goes far beyond traditional contact information. It allows you to create a professional online profile that can include your services, portfolio, contact details, social media, websites, videos, documents, booking links, and many other types of content, all in one place.

Designed to be shared instantly using a QR code, direct link, or NFC technology, DigiCardOne makes it easy to connect with clients, partners, and customers from any device, anywhere in the world.

Whether you are running a business, working independently, or representing an organization, DigiCardOne Membership provides a professional digital presence that is easy to update, simple to share, and built to grow with your needs.

In the following pages, we will explore the features and possibilities of the DigiCardOne platform in greater detail.

PRESS ID CARD

Verified professional identification for today's visual storytellers

For freelance photographers, photojournalists, videographers, content creators, and independent media professionals, credibility often begins long before the first conversation. A professional identity helps establish trust, demonstrates commitment, and clearly communicates that you represent more than a personal hobby. The Camerapixo Press ID Card was created to provide that identity through a transparent and verifiable system designed for today's independent media community.

Unlike a simple name badge or a self-produced identification card, every Camerapixo Press ID Card is issued as part of a verified membership. Each card includes a unique serial number and QR code linked to an online verification system, allowing organizers, institutions, clients, and collaborators to confirm its authenticity. This verification process helps maintain the integrity of the program while providing confidence to those who interact with its members.

The Press ID Card is available in both digital and printed formats, allowing members to present their credentials in the way that best suits their work. Whether covering sporting events, cultural festivals, community projects, travel assignments, editorial stories, or commercial productions, members always have immediate access to their professional identification.

The Press ID Card is designed to support everyday professional communication. It can be presented during accreditation requests, meetings with organizations, or when introducing yourself as a member of the Camerapixo Press community. While access to specific events always remains subject to the organizer's own accreditation policies, the card provides a professional and internationally recognizable way to present your identity.

DIGICARDONE

A modern digital business card designed for today's professionals

In today's connected world, exchanging contact information is only the beginning of building professional relationships. DigiCardOne was created to help individuals, businesses, and organizations present themselves through a modern digital business card that grows together with their professional journey. Unlike traditional printed cards, it can be updated at any time, ensuring that clients, partners, and colleagues always have access to the most current information.

Unlike a traditional business card, DigiCardOne can combine contact details, websites, social media, portfolios, videos, documents, booking links, payment options, and many other digital resources within a single, easy-to-share profile. Whether accessed through a QR code, NFC technology, or a direct link, it provides immediate access to the information you choose to share.

Designed to adapt to different professions and industries, DigiCardOne offers a practical solution for networking, business meetings, conferences, exhibitions, sales presentations, and everyday communication. It helps professionals create a consistent digital presence while making it easier for others to discover, connect, and stay in touch.

More than a replacement for a printed business card, DigiCardOne is a flexible communication platform that evolves with your business. As your work grows, your digital presence can expand with new content, services, and ways to connect, remaining aligned with your changing professional needs.

CORE SOLUTIONS

QR CARD SYSTEM

Connecting printed and digital content through interactive mobile experiences

The QR CARD SYSTEM is a proprietary technology developed by Camerapixo Press, designed specifically for smartphones and the way people access information today. Its purpose is to expand virtually any type of content by connecting it with interactive digital experiences that become instantly available after scanning a QR code.

Unlike traditional QR codes that simply open a webpage, QR Cards are designed as complete digital content cards. They can present articles, photo galleries, videos, audio recordings, documents, interactive forms, games, portfolios, websites, and many other types of multimedia content within a single, easy-to-use experience.

The system can be used with printed and digital publications, books, magazines, educational materials, presentations, events, and business projects. At Camerapixo Press, it is currently used to deliver multilingual interviews, extended editorial content, interactive guides, instructions, and additional materials that go beyond the limitations of traditional publishing.

The QR CARD SYSTEM is continuously developed as an in-house platform by Camerapixo Press. This allows us to introduce new features, improve the user experience, and adapt the system to the evolving needs of both our own publishing projects and our clients' creative ideas.

GRAPHIC DESIGN AND PUBLISHING

Building distinctive visual identities and professionally designed publications

Graphic Design and Publishing brings together visual identity development, creative design, and professional publication production within one connected process. Camerapixo Press provides these services for photographers, independent professionals, businesses, organizations, and creative projects that need a clear, consistent, and recognizable visual presence.

Our work can include logo design, brand development, magazines, books, brochures, advertising materials, promotional graphics, apparel, digital campaigns, and other visual assets used in communication and marketing. Each project is developed with attention to composition, typography, imagery, consistency, and the practical ways in which the design will be used.

We also support the complete publication process, from the initial concept and visual direction to cover design, editorial layout, digital release, and print-ready production. While we specialize in digital publishing, we prepare publications for both online distribution and professional printing, ensuring that every element works together as one coherent visual experience.

Our approach is based on human creative direction, design experience, and a careful understanding of the client's goals. Automated tools may assist certain stages of the process, but meaningful branding requires judgment, consistency, and an individual perspective. For this reason, every project is shaped around the people, ideas, and values it is intended to represent.
